WHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A method for spray-drying maltose, comprising:

providing a maltose-containing product;

adding to said product an amount of a dextrin effective to enhance the susceptibility of said maltose-containing product to be spray-dried to thereby form a blended product; and spray-drying said blended product.